

Medicine Grand Rounds

Friday April 12 @ 12:00 – 1:00 pm

Janet Pope, MD, MPH, FRCPC

Janet Pope is a Professor of Medicine in the Division of Rheumatology at the University of Western Ontario, Schulich School of Medicine. She has published over 600 articles, resulting in several research accolades, and is also a passionate teacher/educator especially in rheumatoid arthritis, lupus and scleroderma. She developed the national rheumatology summer studentships which have increased the number of rheumatologists by exposing medical students to rheumatology. She created and has led the Canadian Rheumatology Association Leadership program (LEAP), which is a needs-based program for early career rheumatologists. She currently co-hosts some of the Around the Rheum podcasts after having been featured as a regular guest. Janet has a social media presence on Twitter (@Janetbirdope) where her #ClinicalPearls have a reputation of teaching physical findings to >19,000 followers.

Are clinical trials broken in Canada?

Objectives:

1. To become familiar with the landscape of trials with rheumatology examples where there is a lack of equity, diversity and inclusion.
2. To identify barriers to clinical research at our institutions.
3. To find possible solutions to poor enrolment, lack of generalizability and patient barriers.
