

2014 JAMES A.F. STEVENSON DISTINGUISHED LECTURE and RESEARCH DAY

Tuesday, November 4, 2014

10:30 a.m. Student Poster Presentations
Great Hall, Somerville House

2:00 p.m. Research Talks
LHSC, University Hospital, Auditorium A

Michael Pest, PhD Candidate

“Cartilage specific deletion of Mig6 disrupts mouse joint homeostasis”

Cory Yamashita, PhD, MD, FRCPC

“Host-Defense Peptides for the Treatment of Cystic Fibrosis”

Jim Petrik, PhD

“The Paradox of Anti-Angiogenic Therapy in Cancer”

4:00 p.m. James A.F. Stevenson Distinguished Lecturer

Dr. Harry C. Dietz, III

Victor A. McKusick, Professor of Medicine and Genetics,
Investigator, Howard Hughes Medical Institute,
Director, William S. Smilow Center for Marfan Syndrome Research, Institute of Genetic Medicine, Departments of Pediatrics, Medicine, and Molecular Biology & Genetics, Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine

“Found in Translation: New Insights into the Pathogenesis and Treatment of Marfan Syndrome and Related Disorders”

Department of Physiology and Pharmacology

LECTURE SPONSORED IN PART BY:

* MOGENSEN TRUST * SCHOOL OF GRADUATE & POSTDOCTORAL STUDIES *
* RESEARCH OFFICE—SCHULICH SCHOOL OF MEDICINE & DENTISTRY *