11.0 unique courses must be completed for the modular requirements for the Major in Medical Cell Biology + Major in Physiology

- check the boxes below and type in the courses you have taken, are taking, and/or are planning to take
- see Course Selection for choosing courses in Yrs 2-4, the Academic Calendar for course requisites and Access to Courses for info about constraints
- no course can be used in two places below, e.g. Physiology 3120 and 3140A can only be used toward Major in Physiology

0.5		0.5 substitute course for the Major in Physiology
= 11.0 courses		* the two departments have agreed that students do not have to take both Biology 3316A/B and Physiology 3140A. Physiology 3140A must be taken and students can take either Biology 3316A/B or a substitute course for the Major in Medical Cell Biology

Full details about the Common Course Policy are found on the BMSc website.

For these Double Majors, there are 2.0 "common courses": Biochemistry 2280A, Chemistry 2213A, Biology/Stats 2244A/B, and one of Biology 2290F/G, 2382A/B, 2581A/B (the Biology course with the highest mark is the common half course). The two common half courses with the highest marks are double-counted/used toward both Major modules. One of the remaining two common half courses is used only toward the Major in Medical Cell Biology and the other remaining common half course is used only toward the Major in Physiology, leaving each Major short by 0.5 course. For each module, a 0.5 "substitute course" must be taken.
