There are three enrollment periods for Fall/Winter Courses:

- Priority Enrollment Period (July 6 – July 28):
  - Only basic medical science courses have priorities in place during this period.
- Adjustment Enrollment Period (July 29 – August 5):
  - Some basic medical science courses have priorities in place during this period. These courses also have priorities in place during the Priority Enrollment Period.
- General Enrollment Period (August 6 – September 17):
  - No basic medical science course have priorities in place during this period.

Courses with a restriction placed on students registered in the modules indicated. Special permission will not be granted for other students to take these courses.

Priority Enrollment Period (July 6 – July 28):
- Any student with the prerequisite will be able to register in basic medical science courses for which a priority was in place for both the Priority Enrollment Period and the Adjustment Enrollment Period.
- A limited number of spaces have been allocated to students in the modules indicated for the enrolment period during the Priority Enrollment Period and the Adjustment Enrollment Period

General Enrollment Period (August 6 – September 17):
- By start of business day on August 6:
  - students will be able to register in basic medical science courses for which a priority was in place only during the Priority Enrollment Period, subject to spaces being available.

Check the course number of each course listed in the module(s) in which you are registered and the cell in the constraint charts that intersects with the course. If the cell is blank, then there are no priorities in place for the course.

Go to the row immediately below the heading for the course to find out the enrollment period(s) during which priorities are in place. Courses with PEP, PEP-SL, or PEP-SR have priorities in place during the Priority Enrollment Period - see information below for details and dates associated with the adjustment enrollment period. Only students registered in basic medical science courses for which a priority was in place during the Priority Enrollment Period will be able to register during the Adjustment Enrollment Period.
