FAQs – Frequently Asked Questions

1. May I still apply to the BSc Program If I am not nominated by Dalian Medical University?

Only 5 students will be nominated from DMU and only these students may be considered for admission to Year 3 BSc in modules offered in Physiology and Pharmacology.

Any applicant not nominated by DMU will be considered for admission under Western's general admission and transfer credit policies.

2. How many courses do I need to complete my BSc degree?

If you are admitted through the DMU pathway, you must complete a minimum of 10.0 courses (typically 2 years of study with a 5.0 full course load per year) at Western to complete your degree. Please make an appointment with an Academic Counsellor to discuss your course requirements and registration.
