CNS GRAND ROUNDS:

Defining the Electroclinical Spectrum of Autoimmune Epilepsy

October 24, 2017, 8:45 a.m.

Auditorium A, University Hospital, Western University

Guest Speaker: Dr. Claude Steriade, MD, CM

Dr. Claude Steriade is an Clinical Fellow in Neurophysiology, EEG & Epilepsy at the Cleveland Clinic.

Dr. Steriade obtained her MD from McGill University (2011) and completed her neurology residency training at the University of Toronto (2016). She is a member of the Canadian Medical Association, The American Academy of Neurology, the Canadian Neurological Sciences Federation, and the American Epilepsy Society.

Dr. Steriade's main interests are in epilepsies related to autoimmune conditions.

Dr. Steriade's lecture will describe the course of a patient with autoimmune epilepsy and provide an overview of antineuronal antibodies and their targets. She will also discuss known electroclinical syndromes of autoimmune epilepsies and propose a role for antineuronal autoantibodies in focal epilepsy. This lecture aims to demonstrate a spectrum of epilepsy with potential immune-mediated mechanisms and its evolution over time through a descriptive study of a CCF cohort.

This event is an accredited group learning activity as defined by the Maintenance of Certification Program of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada
