Mind the Gap: New Hope for Diabetic Nephropathy?

Objective:

- Define chronic kidney disease (CKD) in diabetes and its prevalence
- Discuss current standards of care in the treatment of CKD in patients with diabetes and the need for new therapeutic interventions
- Apply evidence from recent clinical trials with renal outcomes

Norman Muirhead, MB, ChB, MD, FRCPC is a Professor of Medicine with the Division of Nephrology at Western University in London, Ontario.