Dalla Lana
School of Public Health

Nominate High Performing Early Career Family Physicians

Principal Investigator: Dr. Monica Aggarwal, Dalla Lana School of Public Health, University of Toronto

Co-Investigators:

Dr. Alan Katz, Community Health Sciences and Family Medicine, University of Manitoba

Dr. Mahan Kulasegaram, Department of Family and Community Medicine, University of Toronto

Dr. Ross Upshur, Dalla Lana School of Public Health, University of Toronto

Sponsor/Funding: The Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council (SSHRC)

Study Purpose

To identify the capabilities and competencies of high-performing family physicians. This study will contribute to the development of a Capability Framework for family medicine which will inform education, assessment and evaluation

Early career family physicians that are nominated will be asked to complete an on-line survey and will receive a monetary incentive for their time.

We are asking for your assistance with the nomination of Early Career Family Physicians based on the following criteria

Early career family physicians who demonstrated the following during their training:

a) consistent delivery of allocated work on time and to a specified standard in the time allotted;
b) high levels of patient satisfaction and high levels of co-worker satisfaction;
c) being motivated and enthusiastic;
d) demonstrated an eagerness to learn / advance skills;
e) being pro-active (e.g., initiating talk with colleagues or reviews of patients);
f) sound communication and liaising skills;
g) good organization and time management skills; and
h) high levels of competency/professionalism.

For More Information

Please contact:
Anam Shahil Feroz (Research Assistant)
Email: anam.shahil@mail.utoronto.ca
Phone: 647 867 6702

Or

Dr. Monica Aggarwal (Principal Investigator)
Email: monica.aggarwal@utoronto.ca
Phone: 647-381-5534