Click on the box for “More details” under a course in the Academic Calendar.
Click on Courses to see all courses that mention Physiology 3140A
Physiology 3140A is mentioned in the course descriptions for these courses. As an example, click on Anatomy and Cell Biology 4429A to see the course description below.

Physiology 3140A with a minimum mark of 70% will serve as a prerequisite for Anatomy and Cell Biology 4429A.

See the chart of reserved spaces in 4000-level courses to see the number of spaces allotted to students in the Honors Specialization in IMS (next page).
Students in the Honors Specialization in IMS (and the Major in Medical Cell Biology) have access to 34 spaces in ACB 4429A when registration opens. If spaces remain on the dates mentioned above, more students in the Honors Specialization in IMS can register.