Ontario's Workplace Safety and Insurance Board has compiled a list of acceptable providers of CPR & First Aid training. This may be of assistance to you as you are making the decision as to which company to choose.

The Learner Experience Office has determined that an online provider is acceptable for recertification however a complete training course must be done with a face-to-face training classroom. Individuals are only allowed to recertify once before having to take a full course.

It is your responsibility to keep your First Aid and CPR training up to date during your studies.

If you have further questions, please feel free to contact the office.
