“Bearing our Burdens: How Story Helps During Illness”

Dr. Shannon Arntfield
Associate Professor in the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology at Western University

Objectives:
- Understand the difference between disease and illness
- Acknowledge unnecessary suffering, and reasons behind it, for both patients and providers during illness
- Raise awareness of how story can improve the experience of care for both patient and provider
- Advocate for explicit skill development at a system-level to drive culture change

Hosted by: Wellness and Resilience Taskforce
