"The Evolution of Technology in Radiation Oncology: The Rapid Pace Escalates".
Jacob Van Dyk, PhD.
Professor Emeritus, Departments of Oncology, and Medical Biophysics, Schulich School of Medicine, Western University. Adjunct Professor, Department of Physics and Astronomy, Western University.

Objectives:

- To review technological developments in radiation oncology...past, present, and future
- To address some aspects related to global needs and implementation
- To provides some specific examples of evolving trends

THANK YOU TO OUR SPONSORS: