“Small Group Discussion Techniques (part 2)”

Effective methods of teaching in Pathology

This will be an interactive session and participants will actively critique specific strategies that they have used with success while teaching pathology. It will look at real case examples that are used at Schulich for teaching Pathology and will identify specific strategies to deal with particular ‘problems’ or difficult situations that arise during case study teaching

By the end of this seminar participants will be able to:

- Choose and implement a variety of effective learning activities for different purposes in a Pathology teaching environment

The Novel Education Resource Development Group is a self-approved group learning activity (Section 1) as defined by the Maintenance of Certification Program of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada.
