

UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS

Guidance for Discussing EDI-D Related Issues

As an undergraduate student, depending on the situation, whether experienced or witnessed, and your comfort level, there are many resources available to you for addressing/reporting any EDI-D related issues.

CLICK ON EACH BOX FOR MORE INFORMATION

HEALTH & WELLNESS

Health and Wellness can guide students on next steps and available resources

- Same day crisis appointments
- Booking of Health & Wellness appointment
- Counselling Supports
- Group Care & Workshop
- Peer to Peer Support
- Sexual Violence Support
- Enhance My Wellness

Emergency & Crisis Response

STUDENT SUPPORT & CASE MANAGEMENT

Student Support and Case Management is part of Health & Wellness and can guide students on next steps and available resources (especially Sexual Assault Related issues).

OMBUDSPERSON

The office of Ombudsperson are experts in conflict management and assisting students in managing conflicts, and while they often deal with academic related matters, they can also be a place of support for EDID-related issues.

The office of Ombudsperson is not an official office of complaint for the University, and if a situation requires referral to the Human Rights Office, the Ombudsperson can assist in making this connection. The Ombudsperson may also help clarify the different administrators available for support as well (e.g. Grad Chair, Undergrad Chair, Department Chair, Associate Dean, Associate Vice Provost). Finally, the Ombudsperson can also speak about other policies and processes that might apply to your situation.

HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE

The Human Rights Office can assist with any and all issues. A consultation can be set up to discuss options and your situation, or you can file a formal complaint right away.